Petition for Writ of Certiorari to the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit.

Statement.

Permit me to say that I have been in the Investment Securities business in the City of Los Angeles for the past 37 years. During all these years only 2 clients filed complaints against me. Both involved the question as to whether we acted "as principal" or "as agent." One involved only about $25 difference and the matter was dropped by the client after an explanation was made. In the other case the N. A. S. D. Inc. reported, after knowing all the facts, that they would engage the law firm of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher to file "a friend of the court" brief and stating we were in the right by acting "as principal" in the sale of the securities—this took place about 15 years ago.

The National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. is precluded by statute from imposing any fixed schedule of prices but it does stand steadfast on a 5% mark-up or mark-down policy. In the N. A. S. D. Inc. News Volume XX No. 2 dated December 1960 I quote "The N. A. S. D.'s 5% mark-up policy is 'as pertinent and as meaningful' today as when first adopted". As an example permit me to present Complaint No. A-62 filed by the N. A. S. D. Inc. against Richard Fleischer dba Richard Fleischer Co., 1418 N. Highland, Los Angeles 28, Calif. The examiner for the N. A. S. D. checked his records for business done during the first 11 months of 1959. He was charged with 9 violations, saying 9 sales were made at mark-ups ranging from 5.1% to 8.7%. Seven of the 9 sales were stocks sold at between $2 a share and 3⅜—one was at $7.50 a share and one at 20⅝. Mr. Fleischer said he figured to the closest 1/8th. HE WAS FINED $50 and costs of $90.89. Mr. Fleischer came to me for advice. He had worked for me as a sales representative in 1940. He asked me why he has to pay costs when each N. A. S. D. member pays yearly assessments, out of which the examiner's salaries are paid and the N. A. S. D. has enormous surpluses in their treasury. I could not answer his question. He did not want to appeal. He paid the fine and costs in February 1960.

At the N. A. S. D. hearing I was told I violated the 5% rule every time I showed a mark-up of over 5% or a markdown of over 5% whether the stocks were selling in the pennies or dollars or high-priced stocks. The Committee stated they could not have two sets of rules—one for penny stocks and another for high-priced stocks.

I maintain that the 5% mark-up and 5% mark-down rule when it pertains to penny stocks and low-priced stocks is OUTDATED, INAPPLICABLE, UNWORKABLE AND DEFINITELY UNFAIR.

Many of the transactions in question pertained to purchases and sales of Western Empire Petroleum Co. shares listed on the San Francisco Mining Exchange. Like many other firms I traded the stock at net prices, but AT NO TIME DID A CLIENT PAY US MORE WHEN HE BOUGHT or RECEIVE LESS WHEN HE SOLD THAN HE WOULD HAVE PAID OR RECEIVED if the TRANSACTIONS WERE EXECUTED ON THE EXCHANGE. If Western Empire traded on the exchange at 3¢ a share we would pay the client 2.7¢ net when he sold or charge a client 3.3¢ a share when he bought—the commission on the exchange was $3 per 1000 shares. The N. A. S. D. states we paid 2.7¢ a share and we sold at 3.3¢ a share, the mark-up is 22.2% and that is above the 5% mark-up policy.

We are charged for violating the 5% rule by buying Piggly Wiggly Calif. Co. stock at $1.60 a share and selling the stock at $1.80 a share. We are the primary market for this stock—trading the stock at net prices.

If we are in violation then practically every investment securities firm in the Country is in violation of the 5% rule when they trade some of the 25,000 different over-the-counter stocks every day. As stated in the Transcript of Record, pages 38 and 39, many firms indicate their bid and ask prices in the Wants & Offerings sheets, printed 5 days a week and delivered to dealers before 7 a.m. each morning. (These prices are subject to confirmation, they state at what prices they will buy or sell the securities listed in the sheets). Most investment securities firms have trading departments. Each firm maintains one set of books for the trading department and another set of books for the sales department—the profits for each department are kept separately. (I MAINTAIN ONLY ONE SET OF RECORDS WHICH COMBINE BOTH THE TRADING AND RETAIL TRANSACTIONS. I maintain trading markets and retail many different securities. For example I was quoting Santa Fe Western 1 11/16 bid 1 15/16 ask. I purchased 500 shares at 1 11/16 as per N. A. S. D.'s examiner Schedule) and later sold 25 shares and 50 shares at $2 a share net. The Examiner figured the difference between 1 11/16 and 2 to be a mark-up of 60%.

Enclosed herewith is a copy of "Wants & Offerings" dated Aug. 7, 1961 as stated above these are prices at which dealers will buy or sell—subject to confirmation—please note some of them:

Name of Stock	Bid	Ask	% Diff.	Name of Firm
ABCO	1¼	1¼	40%	V. K. Osborne
Admiral Boat	⅝	⅞	40%	California Investors
Ajax Tungsten	4¢	6¢	50%	Morgan & Co.
Bakersfield Hacienda	20¢	35¢	75%	Evans MacCormack & Co.
Beacon Steel	15¢	25¢	66%	Evans MacCormack & Co.
Central Airlines	1⅞	2¼	20%	Dempsey-Tegeler & Co.
Commercial Int. Corp	25¢	35¢	40%	Wheeler & Cruttenden, Inc.
Delta Oil of Utah	17¢	27¢	57%	Hopkins, Harbach & Co.
Diketan	¾	1¼	66%	Holton, Henderson & Co.
Dole Engineering	⅞	1⅛	28%	Shaft, Snook & Cahn
Herts-Lion Int.	⅝	1	60%	Raymond Moore & Co.
Holloway Outdoor Adv.	1⅛	1½	30%	Pacific Coast Securities Co.
Julian Oil Royalties	75¢	1	33%	Evans MacCormack & Co.
Las Vegas Hacienda	55¢	75¢	36%	Evans MacCormack & Co.
Mio Dio	3¢	8¢	166%	Garat & Polonitza, Inc.
North Star Oil	⅝	⅞	40%	Pledger & Co.
Performer Boats	⅞	1⅛	28%	Holton, Henderson & Co. Evans MacCormack & Co.
Ranrex Mining	18¢	23¢	20%	Pledger & Co.
Standard Motels	30¢	45¢	50%	Evans MacCormack & Co.
Williston Basins Oil	09¢	13¢	44%	Wheeler & Cruttenden, Inc.

Again I repeat, if I had maintained two sets of books —one for the trading department and the other for the retail department I presume that would have been proper and acceptable—the retail department would take the stock from the trading department at the ASK price and figure profit for the retail department above at price.

A client buys 10,000 shares of stock listed on the San Francisco Mining Exchange at 3¢ a share. He is charged $30 commission (10%)—in practically every case there is added a certificate transfer charge which is charged to him and he is charged insurance and postage. If a customer buys 10,000 shares of stock from a "over-the-counter" dealer at 3¢ a share, according to the N. A. S. D. 5% rule he can only charge 5% or a total of $15.

A client buys 1,000 shares on the N. Y. S. E. at Pacific Coast Stock Exchange at $1. a share, according to the rates set by the Exchange 6% ($60 commission) must be charged the customer. When a client buys 1,000 shares from an "over-the-counter" firm he can only add 5% ($50). This is unfair. There is no risk when a broker executes the order whereas if an "over-the-counter" dealer buys a block of low priced stock and sells for portion of the block, he sometimes suffers a loss on the remaining shares in inventory if additional blocks of the same stock are offered and the price drops.

A few years ago, an Auditor for the Commissioner of Corporations, State of California examined our purchases and sales of securities. Mr. Joseph Suttner, Deputy Commissioner telephoned asking me to come to his office. I met with Mr. Suttner and the auditor. We carefully went over each transaction and my detailed explanation was accepted.

Relief Prayed.

In my opinion the question to determine is whether or not the 5% policy dictated to its members by the N. A. S. D. Inc. is fair, when it applies to penny stocks and low-priced stocks. I say the 5% policy is OUTDATED, INAPPLICABLE, UNWORKABLE AND DEFINITELY UNFAIR. I feel I have done no wrong. I believe I would not have been censured, fined and assessed costs by the N. A. S. D. Inc. had I followed the practice of most other firms—by maintaining two sets of books, one for the trading department and another for the retail department.

I pray the Court for a reversal of the decision.

Respectfully submitted,

SAMUEL B. FRANKLIN,

Pro Persona for Petitioner.

Opinion and Judgment of the Ninth Circuit.

United States Court of Appeals, for the Ninth Circuit.

Samuel B. Franklin & Company, Petitioner, v. Securities and Exchange Commission, Respondent. No. 16,514.

May 1, 1961.

Petition to Review an Order of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Before: Chambers, Chief Judge, and Barnes, Hamley, Hamlin, Jertberg, Merrill and Koelsch, Circuit Judges.

Hamlin, Circuit Judge:

Samuel B. Franklin & Co., herein called the petitioner, seeks review of an order of the Securities and Exchange Commission. That order affirmed disciplinary action taken by the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., imposing upon Franklin a censure, a fine of $1,000.00 and costs of $773.80.

Section 15A of the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C.A. §780-3, was added by the so-called Maloney Act in 1938. This amendment provides for registration with the SEC of one or more "national securities association." Those portions of the statute applicable to this case are set out in the margin.[1] The

On December 11, 1956, a complaint against petitioner was filed by the District Business Conduct Committee No. 2 of the NASD. In this complaint the petitioner was charged with "selling securities to customers at prices which were not fair in view of the relevant circumstances" in violation of Sections 1 and 4 of Article III of the Rules of Fair Practice of the NASD.[2] The District Business Conduct Committee found that petitioner had violated the rules of fair practice, cen-

Section 4. In "over-the-counter" transactions, whether in "listed" or "unlisted" securities, if a member buys for his own account from his customer, or sells for his own account to his customer, he shall buy or sell at a price which is fair, taking into consideration all relevant circumstances, including market conditions with respect to such security at the time of the transaction, the expense involved, and the fact that he is entitled to a profit; and if he acts as agent for his customer in any such transaction, he shall not charge his customer more than a fair commission or service charge, taking into consideration all relevant circumstances including market conditions with respect to such security at the time of the transaction, the expense of executing the order and the value of any service he may have rendered by reason of his experience in and knowledge of such security and the market therefor.

sured him, imposed a fine of $1,000.00 and assessed costs of the proceedings in the amount of $773.80. Thereafter, a hearing was held before a subcommittee of the Board of Governors of the NASD. On May 19, 1958, a decision was rendered upholding the action of the District Business Conduct Committee and finding in part as follows:

> "Therefore, it is the conclusion of the Board of Governors:
> (1) That the Member did violate the Rules as alleged and found by the District Business Conduct Committee; and
> (2) That such acts were contrary to high standards of commercial honor and just and equitable principles of trade.
> Therefore the Board affirms the Decision of the District Business Conduct Committee and assesses the costs of this proceeding in the amount of $153.29."

Petitioner then appealed to the Securities and Exchange Commission seeking to set aside the decision of the Board of Governors under Section 15A(h) of the Act. On March 24, 1959, the SEC filed "Findings and Opinion of the Commission" in which it discussed in detail the conduct of the petitioner and his contentions and then stated:

> "We accordingly conclude that, as found by the NASD, applicant sold and purchased securities at prices which were not fair under all the relevant circumstances and not reasonably related to current market prices, and that such conduct was in> consistent with just and equitable principles of trade and violated Sections 1 and 4 of Article III of the NASD rules."

An order was then made dismissing petitioner's application for review. Petitioner's application for a rehearing was denied on April 20, 1959, and on June 18, 1959, he asked this court to review the action of the SEC.

The first question to which we will address our attention is whether the petition for review was timely filed in this court. It was filed more than 60 days after the SEC order of March 24, 1959, but within 60 days from the denial by the SEC on April 20, 1959, of the petition for rehearing. Section 25(a) of the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C.A. 78y(a), provides in part as follows:

> "Any person aggrieved by an order issued by the Commission . . . may obtain a review of such order in the Court of Appeals of the United States . . . by filing in such court, within sixty days after the entry of such order, a written petition praying that the order of the Commission be modified or set aside in whole or in part."

Section 10(c) of the Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U.S.C.A. §1009(c), provides in part as follows:

> "(c) Every agency action made reviewable by statute and every final agency action for which there is no other adequate remedy in any court shall be subject to judicial review. Any preliminary, procedural, or intermediate agency action or ruling not directly reviewable shall be subject to review upon the review of the final agency action. Except as otherwise expressly required by statute, agency action otherwise final shall be final for the purposes of this subsection whether or not there has been presented or determined any application . . . for any form of reconsideration, ..."

In Consolidated Flower Shipment v. CAB, 205 F. 2d 449 (9th Cir. 1953), this court had occasion to consider the provisions of 5 U.S.C.A. §1009(c) in connection with the review of an order of the CAB.[3] The court there determined that the language of 5 U.S.C.A. §1009(c) was plain and required a holding that petitioning the agency for reconsideration did not extend the time to appeal from the original order of the agency. In so holding, the court stated that there was "no ambiguity in this Act to be clarified by resort to legislative history." In so reasoning the court relied upon three decisions of the Supreme Court: Packard Motor Car. No. v. NLRB, 330 U. S. 485 (1947); Ex parte Collett, 337 U. S. 55 (1949); George Van Camp & Sons Co. v. American Can Co., 278 U. S. 245 (1924).[4] The respondent has asked us to reconsider that holding.

In Association of Westinghouse Salaried Employees v. Westinghouse Electric Corp., 348 U. S. 437 (1954), and subsequent to the decision in Consolidated Flowers, the Supreme Court was faced with the problem of construing certain sections of the Taft-Hartley Act. Justice Frankfurter indicated that the section involved could be read to have a clear meaning but stated that the section must be placed "in the context of the legislation as a whole." He then went on to say:

> "And considering that the construction that we have found seems plain, the so-called 'plain meaning rule,' on which construction is from time to time rested also in this Court, likewise makes further inquiry needless and indeed improper. But that rule has not dominated our decisions. The contrary doctrine has prevailed. See Boston Sand & Gravel Co. v. United States, 278 U. S. 41, 48; United States v. Dickerson, 310 U. S. 554, 561. And so we proceed to an examination of the legislative history to see whether that raises such doubts that the search for meaning should not be limited to the statute itself." (Emphasis added.)[5]

5 U.S.C.A. §1009(c) provides for judicial review of "final agency action." That portion of the Administrative Procedure Act which defines "agency action"[6]

[5]348 U.S. at 444.

[6]"Agency action" includes the whole or part of every agency rule, order, license, sanction, relief, or the equivalent or denial thereof, or failure to act. 5 U.S.C.A. § 1001(g).

"Order" means the whole or any part of the final disposition (whether affirmative, negative, injunctive, or declaratory in form) of any agency in any matter other than rule making but including licensing. 5 U.S.C.A. § 1001(d).

"Sanction" includes the whole or part of any agency (1) prohibition, requirement, limitation, or other condition affecting the freedom of any person; (2) withholding of relief; (3) imposition of any form of penalty or fine; (4) destruction, taking, seizure, or withholding of property; (5) assessment of damages, reimbursement, restitution, compensation, costs, charges, or fees;

suggests that the purpose of the Act was to increase, or at least not to decrease, the scope of administrative procedures as they had been developed prior to the adoption of the APA. Prior to the adoption of the Act the general rule was that a petition for review by a court was timely if filed within 60 days of the denial of a petition for review.[7] We feel that although an agency's order is "final" in that it is a proper basis for court review without more, if it is followed by a timely application for rehearing the later order denying the rehearing becomes "final agency action." A reading of the legislative history of the Act also supports this position.[8]

At the time the APA was being considered by Congress, Attorney General Tom C. Clark submitted a letter of comment and an appendix containing a detailed analysis of the statute. As a part of the comment, the Attorney General said, "It also restates the law covering judicial review of administrative action." [Em-

(6) requirement, revocation, or suspension of a license; or (7) taking of other compulsory or restrictive action. "Relief" includes the whole or part of any agency (1) grant of money, assistance, license, authority, exemption, exception, privilege, or remedy; (2) recognition of any claim, right, immunity, privilege, exemption, or exception; or (3) taking of any other action upon the application or petition of, and beneficial to, any person. 5 U.S.C.A. § 1001(f). [8]"The term 'agency action' brings together previously defined terms in order to simplify the language of the judicial-review provisions of (5 U.S.C.A. § 1009(c) and to assure the complete coverage of every form of agency power, proceeding, action, or inaction." [Emphasis added.] H.R.Rep. phasis added]. That portion of the appendix specifically referring to 5 U.S.C.A. §1009(c) says:

> "It is intended to state existing law. The last sentence makes it clear that the doctrine of exhaustion of administrative remedies with respect to finality of agency action is intended to be applicable only (1) where expressly required by statute (as, for example, is provided in 49 U.S.C. 17(9)) or (2) where the agency's rules require that decisions by subordinate officers must be appealed to superior agency authority before the decision may be regarded as final for the purposes of judicial review."[9]

Congressman Francis W. Walter, chairman of the administrative procedure act subcommittee, in commenting upon 5 U.S.C.A. §1009(c), said:

> "An act is final, whether or not there has been presented or determined an application for any form of reconsideration, unless statutes otherwise expressly require.
> "The provisions of this section are technical but involve no departure from the usual and well understood rules of procedure in this field." [Emphasis added.][10]

In October, 1960, the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, in Outland v. CAB, 284

F. 2d 224 (D.C. Cir. 1960), had occasion to consider the question "[w]hether the petition for review failed in that it was filed within 60 days after the Board's decision on the motion for reconsideration but more than 60 days after the Board's initial decision." The court there said:

> "The legislative history of 5 U.S.C.A. 1009(c) indicates that it was adopted to achieve harmony with the holding in Levers v. Anderson, 1945, 326 U.S. 219 . . . to the effect that a motion for rehearing was not necessary to exhaust administrative remedies. However, while making judical review available without a motion for a rehearing, that statute did not operate to repeal the law with respect to finality. Where a motion for rehearing is in fact filed, there is no final action until the rehearing is denied, as we said in Braniff Airways, Inc. v. Civil Aeronautics Board, supra [147 F. 2d 152]. Section 1009(c) does not command a motion for rehearing in order to reach finality by exhaustion of administrative remedies; it leaves that to each litigant's choice. But when the party elects to seek a rehearing there is always a possibility that the order complained of will be modified in a way which renders judicial review unnecessary. Practical considerations, therefore, dictate that when a petition for rehearing is filed, review may properly be deferred until this has been acted upon.[11]

A holding that a petition for a rehearing before an agency tolls the running of the period for filing a petition for a review will permit an agency to have an opportunity to reconsider its decision and possibly to correct any errors or misunderstandings concerning it. Counsel will not have to file a protective appeal in the event that the agency has not passed upon the petition for rehearing within sixty days.[12]

Having by reason of the suggestion of Justice Frankfurter examined the legislative history of the APA, together with the general provisions of that Act, we now have the view that our decisions in Consolidated Flowers and Northwest Marine Terminal should not be followed. The legislative history of 5 U.S.C.A. §1009(c) convinces us that that section was intended to mean only that it was not necessary to file a petition for rehearing in order to be eligible to obtain judicial review. We now hold that the timely filing of a petition for agency reconsideration does toll the sixty-day period for appeal to this court and that an appeal taken within sixty days from the termination of the petition for reconsideration by the agency is timely.

We now reach a consideration of the case upon its merits.

The charge against petitioner was that in his transactions his markup or markdown from the current market prices of securities was excessive. The basic facts do not appear to be in dispute. The prices fixed by pe-

[12]In Outland, at page 228, the court said, "[t]he contrary result reached by the Ninth Circuit has caused parties to file so called 'protective' petitions for judicial review while petitions for rehearing before the Board were pending. A whole train of unnecessary consequences flowed from this: the Board and other parties may be called upon to respond and oppose the motion for review; when the Board acts, the petition for judicial review must be amended to bring the petition up to date."

titioner in over seven hundred sales transactions and in over four hundred purchase transactions were examined. The record shows that in 260 of the 731 sales transactions petitioner's markup exceeded 20 per cent,—in 99 instances being between 30 per cent and 62 per cent. In 20 purchases by petitioner, the markdown ranged from 20 per cent to 37 per cent; and in 143 purchases the markdown ranged from 5 per cent to 20 per cent.[13] Petitioner does not question these figures, but contends that the "National Association of Security Dealers, Inc. 5% Rule is unfair when it applies to low-priced and penny stocks."

It appears that some time ago the NASD conducted a survey of the prices charged by its members, and the Board of Governors of the Association reported that 47 per cent of the transactions "were effected at a gross spread or mark-up over the current market of not over 3 percent, and 71 percent at not over 5 percent." The Board of Governors then communicated to the membership the result of this survey, stating in part: "In the case of certain low-priced securities, such as those selling below $10.00, a somewhat higher percentage may sometimes be justified. On the other hand, 5 percent or even a lower rate is by no means always justified."

It can be seen from the language of the above statement that there is no hard and fast "5 percent rule" as complained of by petitioner. The Commission did not discipline him merely because his commissions were in excess of 5 per cent. It did find that his "mark-ups and mark-downs, at least in those transactions in which they were greater than 20% clearly were excessive" and that Franklin "sold and purchased securities at prices which were not fair under all the relevant circumstances and not reasonably related to market prices, and that such conduct was inconsistent with just and equitable principles of trade and violated Sections 1 and 4 of Article III of the NASD rules." The evidence amply supports the findings of the Commissioner.[14] The discipline administered was within that permitted by the rules of the NASD and was not excessive.

The order of the SEC is affirmed.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

ON PETITION FOR A WRIT OF CERTIORARI TO THE UNITED STATES COURT OF APPEALS FOR THE NINTH CIRCUIT

BRIEF FOR THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION IN OPPOSITION

OPINIONS BELOW

The opinion of the Court of Appeals (Pet. App. 1-13) is reported at 290 F. 2d 719. The findings and opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission are set forth in Securities Exchange Act Release No. 5915 and appear at R. 26-38.

JURISDICTION

The judgment of the Court of Appeals affirming the order of the Securities and Exchange Commission was entered on May 1, 1961 (Pet. App. 13-14), and rehearing was denied on June 3, 1961 (R. 74). The petition for a writ of certiorari was filed on August 14, 1961. This Court has jurisdiction under Section 25(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. 78y, and 28 U.S.C. 1254(1).

QUESTION PRESENTED

Whether the Securities and Exchange Commission properly sustained disciplinary action by a national securities association against a member for violating its rules by buying from and selling to its customers securities at unfair prices, on the basis of evidence that in many instances and without justification his prices varied from current market prices by more than twenty percent.

STATUTE INVOLVED

The pertinent provisions of Section 15A of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. 78o-3, 52 Stat. 1070, the so-called Maloney Act, are set forth in the Appendix, infra, pp. 8 to 11.

STATEMENT

The petitioner is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers ("NASD"), a securities association registered under Section 15A of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

Subsection (b)(7) of Section 15A requires that a registered association must have rules designed, inter alia,

> "* * * to prevent fraudulent and manipulative acts and practices, to promote just and equitable principles of trade, to provide safeguards against unreasonable profits or unreasonable rates of commissions or other charges, and, in general, to protect investors and the public interest, and to remove impediments to and perfect the mechanism of a free and open market * * *."

Accordingly, the NASD has adopted Rules of Fair Practice. The petitioner was charged with violating two of these rules during the period of January through May, 1956 (R. 4).[1] One of these (Article III, Section 1) requires members in the conduct of their business to observe high standards of commercial honor and just and equitable principles of trade, and has been interpreted by the NASD as prohibiting its members from entering "into any transaction with a customer in any security at a price not reasonably related to the current market price of the security."[2] The other NASD rule allegedly violated by petitioner (Article III, Section 4) provides that where a member buys for his own account from his customer or sells for his own account to his customer, the price must be fair, taking into consideration all relevant circumstances, including market conditions, the expense involved, and the fact that the member is entitled to a profit.

The disciplinary proceedings against the petitioner were instituted pursuant to rules of the NASD required by subsections (b)(8) and (9) of Section 15A of the Securities and Exchange Act to the effect that a registered association's rules must "provide that its members shall be appropriately disciplined, by expulsion, suspension, fine, censure, or any other fitting penalty for any violation of its rules" and "provide a fair and orderly procedure with respect to the disciplining of members * * *." On December 11, 1956, the local District Committee of the NASD filed its complaint against the petitioner. After a hearing before a subcommittee, it was found that violations of the foregoing rules had been committed by the petitioner. The District Committee censured the petitioner, fined him $1,000, and assessed costs of $773.80. On appeal by the petitioner to the Board of Governors of the NASD, the decision of the District Committee was affirmed and additional costs of the appeal in the amount of $153.29 were assessed.

On review by the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to subsections (g) and (h) of Section 15A of the Securities Exchange Act, the Commission found "that, as found by the NASD, applicant sold and purchased securities at prices which were not fair under all the relevant circumstances and not reasonably related to current market prices, and that such conduct was inconsistent with just and equitable principles of trade and violated Sections 1 and 4 of Article III of the NASD rules," and stated "that we cannot find that the fine, censure and costs imposed by the NASD are excessive or oppressive, having due regard to the public interest" (R. 33-34). Accordingly, the Commission dismissed the review proceedings (R. 35). Thereafter, the Commission denied the petitioner's request for a rehearing (R. 41-42) and the petitioner sought review of the Commission's order in the Court of Appeals.[3]

As noted by the court below, the basic facts are not is dispute (Pet. App. 11). In 260 of petitioner's 731 sales transactions during the period January 1 through May 13, 1956, petitioner's mark-up over the current market prices exceeded 20 percent—in 99 instances being between 30 percent and 62 percent. In 20 purchases during this same period the mark-down exceeded 20 percent; in 6 of these it ranged from 30 percent to 37 percent (R. 30).

ARGUMENT

The petition presents no question of importance and the decision of the court below was clearly correct.

Essentially the petitioner appears to argue that a policy limiting mark-ups or mark-downs to five percent with respect to low-priced stocks is unfair. As both the Commission and the court below made clear, however, the disciplinary action against the petitioner was upheld on the basis of mark-ups and [3] Under Section 25(a) of the Securities Exchange Act, 15 U.S.C. 78y, review of an order of the Commission may be had in a court of appeals by the filing of a petition to review "within sixty days after the entry of such order." The petition for review was filed in the court of appeals within 60 days of the Commission's order denying the petition for rehearing, but after 60 days had elapsed from the date of the Commission's original order. The Commission supported the petitioner's right to review in the court below, urging the court not to follow its previous holdings under comparable statutory provisions to the effect that the petition must be filed within 60 days of the original order.

mark-downs that were greater than 20 percent (R. 33; Pet. App. 12-13). The Commission also made clear that it took into consideration such additional circumstances as the riskless character of many of the petitioner's transactions (R. 32).[4] The Commission also considered the petitioner's failure to show "any special circumstances, such as unusual expenses in connection with particular transactions, extraordinary services rendered to customers, or acquisition of inventory at special concessions, to warrant the mark-ups charged" (R. 33).

Accordingly, the petitioner's charges, based on off-the-record data that in certain circumstances customers of stock exchange firms who act as their brokers might pay more than 5 percent in commissions and other expenses, are wholly irrelevant. In the light of the high spreads here—between 20 and 62 percent—the Commission properly found that these were "clearly excessive by any reasonable criteria" (R. 32). As the Commission stated early in its history:

> "Inherent in the relationship between a dealer and his customer is the vital representation that the customer will be dealt with fairly, and in accordance with the standards of the profession. It is neither fair dealing, nor in accordance with

> "In addition, most of the transactions involved little or no risk for petitioner, because an order was usually confirmed before it bought the securities that it was selling."

such standards, to exploit trust and ignorance for profits far higher than might be realized from an informed customer." [5]

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, the petition for a writ of certiorari should be denied.

[5] Duker & Duker, 6 S.E.C. 386, 388-389. In that case the failure to disclose unreasonable profits was held to be fraudulent. Such holdings have been affirmed in appellate courts. See Hughes & Co. v. Securities and Exchange Commission, 139 F. 2d 434 (C.A. 2), and Weber v. Securities and Exchange Commission, 222 F. 2d 822 (C.A. 2). In the present case there is involved only the question whether the NASD's Rules of Fair Practice have been violated.

APPENDIX

Pertinent provisions of Section 15A of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. 78o-3, 52 Stat. 1070 et seq., are:

> (a) Any association of brokers or dealers may be registered with the Commission as a national securities association pursuant to subsection (b) * * *, under the terms and conditions hereinafter provided in this section, by filing with the Commission a registration statement in such form as the Commission may prescribe, setting forth the information, and accompanied by the documents, below specified:

> (7) the rules of the association are designed to prevent fraudulent and manipulative acts and practices, to promote just and equitable principles of trade, to provide safeguards against unreasonable profits or unreasonable rates of commissions or other charges, and, in general, to protect investors and the public interest, and to remove impediments to and perfect the mechanism of a free and open market; and are not designed to permit unfair discrimination between customers or issuers, or brokers or dealers, to fix minimum profits, to impose any schedule of prices, or to impose any schedule or fix minimum rates of commissions, allowances, discounts, or other charges;

(8) the rules of the association provide that its members shall be appropriately disciplined, by expulsion, suspension, fine, censure, or any other fitting penalty, for any violation of its rules;

(9) the rules of the association provide a fair and orderly procedure with respect to the disciplining of members and the denial of membership to any broker or dealer seeking membership therein. In any proceeding to determine whether any member shall be disciplined, such rules shall require that specific charges be brought; that such member shall be notified of, and be given an opportunity to defend against, such charges; that a record shall be kept; and that the determination shall include (A) a statement setting forth any act or practice in which such member may be found to have engaged, or which such member may be found to have omitted, (B) a statement setting forth the specific rule or rules of the association of which any such act or practice, or omission to act, is deemed to be in violation, (C) a statement whether the acts or practices prohibited by such rule or rules, or the omission of any act required thereby, are deemed to constitute conduct inconsistent with just and equitable principles of trade, and (D) a statement setting forth the penalty imposed. In any proceeding to determine whether a broker or dealer shall be denied membership, such rules shall provide that the broker or dealer shall be notified of, and be given an opportunity to be heard upon, the specific grounds for denial which are under consideration; that a record shall be kept; and that the determination shall set forth the specific grounds upon which the denial is based;

(g) If any registered securities association (whether national or affiliated) shall take any disciplinary action against any member thereof, or shall deny admission to any broker or dealer seeking membership therein, such action shall be subject to review by the Commission, on its own motion, or upon application by any person aggrieved thereby filed within sixty days after such action has been taken or within such longer period as the Commission may determine. Application to the Commission for review, or the institution of review by the Commission on its own motion, shall operate as a stay of such action until an order is issued upon such review pursuant to subsection (h).

(h)(1) In a proceeding to review disciplinary action taken by a registered securities association against a member thereof, if the Commission, after appropriate notice and opportunity for hearing, upon consideration of the record before the association and such other evidence as it may deem relevant, shall (A) find that such member has engaged in such acts or practices, or has omitted such act, as the association has found him to have engaged in or omitted, and (B) shall determine that such acts or practices, or omission to act, are in violation of such rules of the association as have been designated in the determination of the association, the Commission shall by order dismiss the proceeding, unless it appears to the Commission that such action should be modified in accordance with paragraph (2) of this subsection. The Commission shall likewise determine whether the acts or practices prohibited, or the omission of any act required, by any such rule constitute conduct inconsistent with just and equitable principles of trade, and shall so declare. If it appears to the Commission that the evidence does not warrant the finding required in clause (A) of this paragraph, or if the Commission shall determine that such acts or practices as are found to have been engaged in are not prohibited by the designated rule or rules of the association, or that ~~such act~~ as is found to have been omitted is not required by such designated rule or rules, the Commission shall by order set aside the action of the association.

(2) If, after appropriate notice and opportunity for hearing, the Commission finds that any penalty imposed upon a member is excessive or oppressive, having due regard to the public interest, the Commission shall by order cancel, reduce, or require the remission of such penalty.

Pertinent provisions of Article III of the Rules of Fair Practice of the National Association of Securities Dealers are:

Section 1. A member, in the conduct of his business, shall observe high standards of commercial honor and just and equitable principles of trade.

* * * *

Section 4. In "over-the-counter" transactions, whether in "listed" or "unlisted" securities, if a member buys for his own account from his customer, or sells for his own account to his customer, he shall buy or sell at a price which is fair, taking into consideration all relevant circumstances, including market conditions with respect to such security at the time of the transaction, the expense involved, and the fact that he is entitled to a profit; and if he acts as agent for his customer in any such transaction, he shall not charge his customer more than a fair commission or service charge, taking into consideration all relevant circumstances including market conditions with respect to such security at the time of the transaction, the expense of executing the order and the value of any service he may have rendered by reason of his experience in and knowledge of such security and the market therefor.

OCTOBER TERM, 1961

No. 311.

SAMUEL B. FRANKLIN & CO., Petitioner,

vs.

SECURITIES & EXCHANGE COMMISSION, Respondent.

On Petition for a Writ of Certiorari to the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit.

Petitioner's Reply to Brief for the Securities & Exchange Commission in Opposition.

Argument.

The N.A.S.D. and the Securities and Exchange Commission completely disregarded my presentation of the facts, that I maintained only one set of records which combined the profits made in the trading department and in the retail department and that I was trading the stocks in question and maintaining inventories in these stocks. I repeated over and over again that if I had kept separate sets of records—one for the trading department and another for the retail department and only showed the N.A.S.D. examiner the records of the retail department all would be in order and I would not be condemned.

Many of the transactions pertained to buying and selling Western Empire Petroleum Co. shares. This stock was listed on the San Francisco Mining Exchange. My presentation of the facts and figures were completely disregarded when I stated that "At No Time Did A Client Pay Us More When He Bought or Receive Less When He Sold Than He Would Have Paid or Received if the Transactions Were Executed on the Exchange". If the stock traded on the Exchange at 3¢—we would take it in from a client at 2.7¢ (the Stock Exchange Commission was $3.00 per 1000 shares) and then sell the stock at 3.3¢ (if the stock was traded on the Exchange at 3¢). If on the same day or next day or within a few days, the stock was selling at 4¢ on the Exchange, we would charge the client 4.3¢ a share. We carried large inventories in the stock at all times. The N.A.S.D. examiner looked at our records, saw our cost was 2.7¢ and we sold at 3.3¢ that was a markup of 22%—bought at 2.7¢, sold at 4.3¢ that was a markup of 59½%. N.A.S.D. says, "That Markup is Unfair", without taking into consideration the client would pay the same price for the stock if he placed the order through a Stock Exchange Firm.

Similar transactions took place in shares of San Mauricio Mining (about 6¢) listed on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and Mindanao (about 15¢) listed on the San Francisco Stock Exchange.

Many over-the-counter firms buy and sell listed securities in the same manner as we did.

If you will examine the Schedules 1-2 and 3 filed by the N.A.S.D. with the original complaint, you will find that the vast majority of the transactions pertained to the above stocks and stocks in which we traded and carried inventories—such as Philippine Iron Mines (about 17¢), Oklahoma Oil (about 15¢), Atles Consolidated Mining (about 50¢), Piggly Wiggly (about $1.25) and Santa Fe Western (about 1 7/8). For exampe I was trading Santa Fe Western 1 11/16 bid, 1 15/16 ask. I purchased 500 shares at 1 11/16 (as per N.A.S.D. examiner's Schedule) and later sold an odd lot of 25 shares and an odd lot of 50 shares at $2.00 a share net. The N.A.S.D. examiner looked at the cold figures saying, "The difference between 1 11/16 and 2 is a markup of 60%."

The National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. is precluded by statute from imposing any fixed schedule of prices but it does stand steadfast on a 5 % mark-up or mark-down policy. In the N.A.S.D. Inc. News Volume XX No. 2 dated December 1960 I quote "The N.A.S.D's 5% mark-up policy is 'as pertinent and as meaningful' today as when first adopted". As an example permit me to present Complaint No. A-62 filed by the N.A.S.D. Inc. against Richard Fleischer dba Richard Fleischer Co., 1418 N. Highland, Los Angeles 28, Calif. The examiner for the N.A.S.D. checked his records for business done during the first 11 months of 1959. He was charged with 9 violations, saying 9 sales were made at mark-ups ranging from 5.1% to 8.7%. Seven of the 9 sales were stocks sold at between $2 a share and 3⅜—one was at $7.50 a share and one at 20⅝. Mr. Fleischer said he figured to the closest ⅛th. HE WAS FINED $50 and costs of $90.89. Mr. Fleischer came to me for advice. He had worked for me as a sales representative in 1940. He asked me why he has to pay costs when each N.A.S.D. member pays yearly assessments, out of which the examiner's salaries are paid and the N.A.S.D. has enormous surpluses in their treasury. I could not answer his question. He did not want to appeal. He paid the fine and costs in February 1960.

At the N.A.S.D. hearing I was told I violated the 5% rule every time I showed a mark-up of over 5% or a markdown of over 5% whether the stocks were selling in the pennies or dollars or high-priced stocks. The Committee stated they could not have two sets of rules—one for penny stocks and another for high-priced stocks.

I maintain that the 5% mark-up and 5% mark-down rule when it pertains to penny stocks and low-priced stocks is OUTDATED, INAPPLICABLE, UNWORKABLE AND DEFINITELY UNFAIR.

The following was taken from "Wants & Offerings", a daily publication received by all investment securities firms each morning. Please note that the difference between the bid and ask prices range from 20% to 166%. These are actual prices at which these dealers will buy and sell these securities on August 7, 1961.

Name of Stock	Bid	Ask	% Diff.	Name of Firm
ABCO	1¼	1¼	40%	V. K. Osborne
Admiral Boat	⅝	⅞	40%	California Investors
Ajax Tungsten	4¢	6¢	50%	Morgan & Co.

Standard Motels	30¢	45¢	50%	Evans MacCormack & Co.
Williston Basins Oil	09¢	13¢	44%	Wheeler & Cruttenden, Inc.

I further maintain that I carried inventories in many stocks and I should not be condemned when I buy and sell these securities exactly in the same manner as thousands of investment securities firms from coast to coast buy and sell securities.

Conclusion.

I maintain that the N.A.S.D did not have just cause to censure me, fine me $1000.00 and assess costs of $927.09.

I have been in the Investment Securities business in the City of Los Angeles for the past 37 years and sincerely feel that I have always treated my thousands of clients fairly.

In all these 37 years only two clients filed complaints against me. Both involved the question as to whether we acted "as principal" or "as agent." One involved only about $25 difference and the matter was dropped by the client after an explanation was made. In the other case the N.A.S.D. reported, after knowing all the facts, that they would engage the law firm of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher to file "a friend of the court" brief and stating we were in the right by acting "as principal" in the sale of securities—this took place about 15 years ago.

Relief Prayed.

Based on the above presentation I pray the court for a reversal of the decision.

Respectfully submitted,

SAMUEL B. FRANKLIN,

Pro Persona for Petitioner.
